CHRISTIANS CONCERNED FOR THE COMMUNITY

2024 Annual Report

In 2024 CCC continued to expand our impact in the community, serving hundreds of needs among over 100 families who were elderly, disabled, or impoverished and in need of assistance. We connected the Church to our vulnerable neighbors, from building life-changing ramps to providing children beds to sleep on at night, and will continue to do this God-honoring work as long as there is a need for it.

2024 was another year of blessing at CCC. As I continued into my 2nd year as executive director, I saw an increase in the pool of faithful members of the local Church wanting to get involved and give their time, money, or resources to further the work that we do here at CCC. As you will see in the Impact and Finances sections, our programs have continued to serve more and more people, with a notable increase in the number of neighbors served by receiving a new wheelchair ramp. And you, our generous donors, have continued to provide over and above what we need to operate, opening the door to new possibilities of better serving our neighbors.

I hope and pray that the Lord continues to use me in this role to help the Church live out God's calling to provide for our neighbors in need, and for that to be a beautiful witness of the merciful and gracious love of Christ. The love of Christ which gives us the perfect model for how we are to love and serve with humility, to help build his Kingdom through deeds of love and mercy.

Consider the lives changed by receiving a ray of hope through a pathway in and out of a home (Home Projects), through beds and more delivered to neighbors (Home Delivery), and through the power of prayer that we share with each neighbor. Know that all of you who play some part, whether large or small, are honoring God and living out his will for us on this earth. Pray along with me that CCC can continue to flourish, that our neighbors might see God's goodness, and that they would also flourish.

And finally, thank you to everyone who participates in the work we do! Whether through your prayers, items given, furniture moved, money to support us, or spreading the word of what we do, each of you help this crucial ministry continue. Without you, we would not be able to show God's love to our neighbors in much needed ways.

To God be the glory!

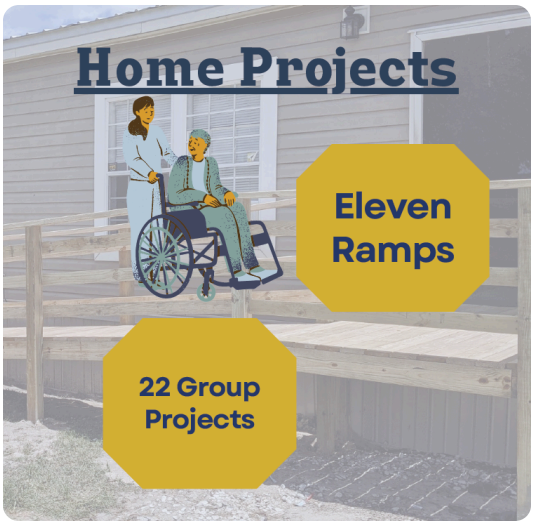
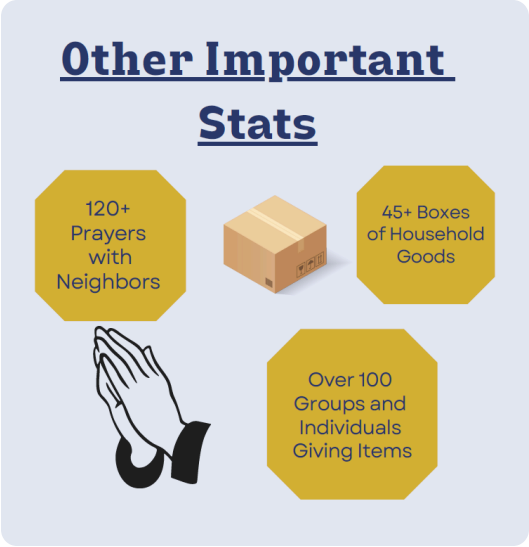
Our Impact in 2024





We have continued to increase in our Impact!

Under Home Projects, we have ramps, and other projects such as cleaning homes, fixing stairs and rails, and installing grab bars. In this area, we have increased the number of ramps completed from 4 in 2023 to 11 in 2024! This is a tremendous improvement and we thank God for the support and volunteers that make that life changing work possible. Besides ramps, we also held a handful of yard projects and other repairs and accessibility work to serve our neighbors in need.

Home Delivery covers everything we have delivered to our neighbors in 2024. We have increased almost every aspect of our Home Delivery program! We especially had a substantial increase in delivering to over 80 homes versus around 55 from 2023.

Every service that we give to our neighbors is always accompanied by the message that God is a gracious God who is the one providing for the neighbor, and that the work of the church through CCC is an image of the saving love of Jesus.

Annual Letter from the Board
Nick Dunn

Friends of CCC,

It is with great pleasure that I reintroduce myself to this community. My name is Nick Dunn, and I've just completed my first year back volunteering with CCC. I still remember my first volunteer shift delivering furniture with my friend Tim 15 years ago (a refrigerator actually, which to this day is the toughest delivery I've ever made, though that's a story for another time). I was fortunate to join the staff at the beginning of 2011. I was the furniture donations and volunteer coordinator until 2014, when my wife's work took us to Illinois. Ten years later, God called us back to Gainesville, so of course I called up Lenora to ask her to get me back on the volunteer schedule.

I don't take this for granted. I see God's grace and goodness in this opportunity to serve. Many staff, volunteers, board members, and supporters, in fact many of you reading this, have made it possible for me to return to this organization I love, whose work I find so compelling.

Why is the work of CCC so compelling?

First, it's one way to follow the example of scripture in building God's kingdom through service. In Acts 6:1-7, Luke notes that the apostles were concerned about neglected widows going hungry, so they commissioned for service seven deacons whom the community chose. All Scripture is true, but some parts hit closer to home than others. Maybe it's because I share a name with the proselyte of Antioch, or maybe it's because those without resources whose needs are neglected are so many, even in Alachua County… For some reason, I find the ministry of redistribution, of working and praying with folks in the CCC truck and in their homes compelling. I don't know how to preach, but I sure know how to bring others along to do acts of loving service.

Second, the work is relational, not merely physical. When our Executive Director, Michael Lynch, leads a wheelchair ramp build, a physical need is met. But so much more than that, people regain access to community, to medical services, to mobility, dignity, and independence. When we redistribute good and usable furniture and appliances, we equip folks to care for their families. What a blessing to come alongside a family recently on two different occasions, to know we were partnering with their family (who found them safer housing for their family of four with a baby on the way) by bringing them donated furniture and appliances. We were able to pray with them for their sincere desire to grow in faith, to spend more time with the Lord. We rejoiced that the father was finding good work and we prayed for health and comfort in a difficult pregnancy.

Third, I appreciate CCC's approach to serving our neighbors. Our work is not mere redistribution, it's not merely a logistics question. Rather, we equip, coordinate, and facilitate the work of others. I'm a professional intercultural consultant with a passion for helping multicultural teams build trust and work effectively together. All my work is about putting others in a position to succeed. Through CCC, I get to do that by resourcing volunteers to serve. It's been a joy in the past year to develop friendships with multiple volunteers as I've driven the CCC truck all over the county.

Finally, working with CCC this past year means that by volunteering, I'm helping act out the will and intention of so many awesome people in your churches and communities. As a new board member, I help Michael and Lenora fulfill the mission that your donations, prayer, and encouragement commissions them to do. As a furniture volunteer, I get to pick up life-changing donations from folks all over the county, absolutely confident that they're going right where they're needed.

I'm thankful that I was able to see and participate in the work of CCC this past year. In 2025, We are looking forward to partnering with donors, supporters, local churches, and neighbors to build the Kingdom of God in Alachua County!

On Behalf of the Board of Directors,

Nicholas Dunn
